Impacts of COVID-19 on DOL Transportation Fees

The data within this report, encompassing transactions, revenue, and costs, spans from July 2021 to June 2023. Notably, a significant portion of this period aligns with the continuation of the COVID-19 pandemic, particularly during the first half of the biennium. This likely had an impact on transportation fee collections, which would have impacted the transaction counts, revenue collections, and cost estimates included in this report.

The Department of Licensing closed all 55 driver licensing offices (LSOs) at the end of March 2020 due to the COVID-19 outbreak and Washington's Stay Home, Stay Healthy order. LSOs began to open in May 2020 under a multi-stage reopening plan. Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the LSOs modified their operations to comply with health and safety guidelines. These safety measures included limiting the physical capacity of offices to serve customers at about 60% of the pre-COVID-19 levels. In reality, DOL's capacity in the driver licensing offices was at about 50% when adjusted for available staffing levels. As a result, DOL did not have the capacity to serve the expected demand for in-person driver licensing services. While most DOL driver licensing offices had resumed normal operations by July 2021, some offices remained closed into the 2021-2023 biennium.

Business and professional licensing transactions for the transportation services professions were also likely impacted as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, contributing to lower than expected license issuances and renewals.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, transaction volumes associated with DOL's transportation fees were likely lower than they would have been under normal operating conditions. These impacts should be taken into account if comparing the data in this report to the data from prior years.

Study Introduction and Scope

The Washington State Legislature requires the Department of Licensing (DOL) to submit a fee study each biennium (RCW 46.01.360). This study provides the Legislature with information on DOL's service costs, collected revenue, and transaction counts for transportation fees. The Legislature uses this information as input for related cost recovery and rate setting proposals. The final report is due to the Senate and House Transportation Committees on December 1st.

This study provides information for the following groups of transportation fees:

- Administrative Fees: A type of fee that is intended to recoup the cost of providing a service from a beneficiary. This report identifies RCW/WAC information, current fee rates, total and per-unit costs, transaction counts, and total revenue collected for this type of fee.
- Non-Administrative Fees: A type of fee that has the primary purpose of raising revenue for state transportation funding. This report identifies RCW/WAC information, current fee rates, transaction counts, and total revenue collected for this type of fee.
- No-Fee Services: A type of service provided by DOL at no fee. This does not include services that the Legislature requires DOL to provide at no fee, such as disabled parking documents or disabled veterans' plates.

RCW 46.01.360: Fees — Study and Adjustment

To ensure cost recovery for department of licensing services, the department of licensing shall submit a fee study to the transportation committees of the House of Representatives and the Senate by December 1, 2003, and on a biennial basis thereafter. Based on this fee study, the Washington state legislature will review and adjust fees accordingly.

DOL oversees and administers a range of fees associated with drivers and vehicles, which are primarily aimed at generating revenue for state transportation initiatives. These initiatives encompass crucial areas such as infrastructure development, driver and vehicle licensing and regulation, and highway safety enforcement. To fund these initiatives, the fee rates are typically set higher than what is needed to recover agency costs. Moreover, certain fee rates intentionally surpass their per-unit cost in order to discourage undesirable behaviors, such as penalties for bounced checks or late license renewals. As a result, this study includes a per-unit cost analysis only for the transportation fees that are required to recover the cost of collection or cost of providing a specific service (administrative fees).

The DOL transportation fee inventory table (see pp. 10-25) lists all transportation-related fees collected by DOL (both administrative and non-administrative fees). This table lists the full fee rate paid by the customer. If a portion of the fee is kept by DOL to cover the costs associated with fee collection or program administration, just that specified portion of the fee is listed in the administrative fee tables on pp. 5-7.

DOL Administrative Transportation Fees

Administrative transportation fees are intended to recover their costs of administration and may include support for a designated program, or for costs associated with the related fee type. In most cases, state law (RCW) requires a percentage or set amount of each administrative fee to mitigate the agency's costs. In the 2021-2023 biennium, these administrative fees all supported collection and administrative costs related to the fees except for the motorcycle endorsement fees and the vehicle bulk records fee. In addition to supporting administrative costs associated with collecting the fees, the motorcycle endorsement fees also cover the program costs for the Motorcycle Safety Program. The vehicle bulk records fee supports investments in technology and data management at DOL. The tables on pp. 5-7 detail 29 vehicle, driver, and transportation services administrative fees administered by DOL.

Notes: When an RCW specifies that a portion of a fee be used to recover the cost of collecting the fee or administering the service, the fee rate listed in the above administrative fee table is that specified amount (not the full fee rate that is paid by the customer). This is the case for the abandoned recreational vehicle (RV) disposal fee, commercial vehicle safety enforcement fee, off-road vehicle and snowmobile registration fees, transportation benefit district fee, Sound Transit private/local recovery fee (administrative portion for RTA fees), and personalized plate and special plate administrative fees. The full fee rate is listed in the DOL Transportation Fee inventory table on pp. 10-25. When the overall purpose of a fee is to support the costs of program administration, the total fee amount is listed.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, transaction volumes associated with DOL’s transportation fees were likely lower than they would have been under normal operating conditions. These impacts should be taken into account if comparing the data in this report to the data from prior years (refer to p. 3 for additional details).

1 The costs for administering and collecting vehicle fees only include the Department of Licensing’s costs. These costs do not include expenses paid by agents, subagents, or county auditors.

2 Details about what is included in direct and indirect costs is included in Appendix B (see p. 28).

3 Off-road vehicle and snowmobile temporary permits have a high estimated per unit cost due to the method that is used to allocate Information Technology (IT) costs to the fees. The estimated IT costs associated with these fees/services are spread across relatively small transaction bases, since both of these fee types have a relatively small number of transactions for the biennium. As a result, estimated per unit costs are significantly higher for these fees compared to other fee types.

4 Per RCW 46.68.435(2), “Administrative costs incurred by the department as a direct result of administering the personalized license plate program must be appropriated by the legislature from the limited fish and wildlife account from those funds deposited in the account resulting from the sale of personalized license plates.” Even though DOL could request to be reimbursed for the costs associated with administering the personalized plate fees, the department has not asked or been appropriated funds for this purpose.

Notes: When an RCW specifies that a portion of a fee be used to recover the cost of collecting the fee or administering the service, the fee rate listed in the above administrative fee table is that specified amount (not the full fee rate that is paid by the customer).

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, transaction volumes associated with DOL’s transportation fees were likely lower than they would have been under normal operating conditions. These impacts should be taken into account if comparing the data in this report to the data from prior years (refer to p. 3 for additional details).

1 Details about what is included in direct and indirect costs is included in Appendix B (see p. 28).

2 The direct and indirect costs of DOL’s Motorcycle Safety Program are included in the costs of administering the motorcycle endorsement fees, as these services are indirectly related to motorcycle endorsement.

3 For the ignition interlock monthly fee, only the costs of administering the program are included in the total costs. The majority of the costs in the IID Revolving Account go toward providing financial assistance for indigent applicants with an IID requirement, which are not included in the costs for administering the IID program and managing the monthly fees.

4 Per RCW 46.72A.120, DOL must set limousine fees that approximate the cost administration. However, this RCW also sets maximum fee rates for limousine licensing fees - vehicle certificates must not exceed $75, limousine carrier licenses must not exceed $350, and limousine inspections must not exceed $25. Since we don’t have transaction counts for limousine carrier vehicle inspections in the Fee Study, all of DOL’s direct and indirect costs associated with licensing and regulating limousine carriers are applied to limousine carrier licenses and vehicle certificates.

DOL No-Fee Transportation Services

In the course of providing public services, DOL administers a set of services at no fee. Reasons for providing each of these services at no fee include providing a customer convenience at minimal cost to the agency and encouraging customer behavior that supports:

- More accurate record collection.
- Lower agency costs.
- Improved public safety and consumer protection.

In conducting this study, we identified a number of no-fee services spread across agency programs. The 12 no-fee services listed in the table below meet the following criteria:

- Not designated in state law (RCW) as a free service or product.
- Clearly identifiable transaction counts for the 2021-2023 biennium.

DOL No-Fee Services

2 Includes no-fee issuances for driver licenses, ID cards, and permits.

DOL Non-Administrative Transportation Fees

Non-administrative transportation fees have the primary purpose of raising revenue for state transportation funding. Revenues from these fees primarily support the Motor Vehicle and Highway Safety Funds, which are the primary sources of DOL transportation appropriations.

State law (RCW) does not require these transportation fees' per unit costs to align with their fee rates. Instead, costs of fee collection and administration are all covered by the agency appropriation received for each biennium. This appropriation is not specifically tied to the amount of revenue generated by the fees, nor the costs specific to collecting and administering these fees. Once received, DOL assigns spending authority to each program through cost centers. Programs then charge expenditures to these cost centers to cover program activities such as staffing, technology, and materials costs. Program spending authority and expenditures are not specific to fees.

Notes: The table on pp. 10-25 includes all DOL transportation-related fees (both administrative and non-administrative fees). If a particular fee has a portion that is designated to cover administrative and fee collection costs, the full fee rate paid by the customer is listed in this table. In the Administrative Fee tables on pp. 5-7, only the administrative fee amount is listed (the portion of the fee that is retained by DOL to cover the expenses associated with collecting the fee and/or providing the service).

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, transaction volumes associated with DOL's transportation fees were likely lower than they would have been under normal operating conditions. These impacts should be taken into account if comparing the data in this report to the data from prior years (refer to p. 3 for additional details).

Some data is not available due to system limitations.

1 The listed revenue amounts are primarily estimates and are not intended as official DOL revenue totals. DOL revenue information is reported by account code and not by fee type. Revenue from multiple fee types can be deposited into the same revenue account. Therefore, a precise alignment of fee revenue and fee transaction data is not feasible.

2 The fee rates listed for driver licenses, identification (ID) cards, motorcycle endorsements, and commercial driver licenses (CDLs) are the amounts for a six-year license; however, if a six-year and eight-year renewal option is available, then a range of fee rates is listed. The lower amount is the cost for a six-year renewal, and the higher amount is the cost for the eight-year renewal. If a license is issued for a period of less than six years, this amount is pro-rated. Also, the fee rates listed for enhanced driver licenses, enhanced ID cards, motorcycle endorsements, and CDLs are the fee amounts in addition to the cost of a standard license or ID card. For example, the total cost of renewing an enhanced driver license for six years is $78 ($54 for the driver license renewal plus an additional $24 for the enhanced driver license renewal).

3 The driver technology fee, which took effect in the beginning of 2023, is collected with each application for an original or renewal of a regular or enhanced driver's license or identicard. The amount collected from this fee shall be used to pay for processing costs for driver's license issuance and reinstatements, and information technology upgrades and the ongoing costs to maintain the driver's license and identicard record and issuance system.

4 CDL originals, renewals, and permits include domicile and non-domicile licenses.

5 The Ignition Interlock Device (IID) monthly fee is $21. The IID company retains $0.25, and DOL receives $20.75 for the monthly fee.

6 The revenue amounts for some vehicle registration fees may include revenue collected for prorated and fuel tax transactions. While the revenue may be included here, the prorated transactions are not captured in the transaction counts (since prorated transactions are conducted and tracked in a separate system). This is likely the case for vehicle registration filing, gross weight, freight project, trip permit, and special fuel permit fees.

7 Per RCW 46.68.400, if the filing fee is paid to a county auditor or other agent or subagent, the fee must be distributed to the county treasurer and credited to the county current expense fund except for fifty cents of the fee which must be remitted to DOL. At least quarterly, DOL must distribute an equal share of the remitted funds to each county. The $0.50 portion of this fee is the revenue amount that is reported for filing fees paid to county auditors, agents or subagents.

8 Per RCW 46.68.400, if the filing fee is collected by the Department of Licensing, the fee must be deposited in the highway safety fund. However, if the filing fee is collected by DOL in conjunction with a gross weight license fee, commercial trailer license fee, or private use single-axle trailer license fee, then $2 must be deposited in the multimodal fund and the remaining $2.50 is deposited in the highway safety fund. This is the revenue that is reported for filing fees paid to DOL.

9 Per 46.17.040, revenue from registration and title service fees only goes to capital vessel replacement account if the service fee is collected by DOL, a county auditor, or an agent. The transaction counts and revenue amounts for vehicle registration service fees includes service fees collected for veteran and military emblems.

10 The fee amounts for vehicle weight, gross weight, freight project, and liquid propane gas fees vary based on vehicle weight.

11 Up to 15% of the abandoned recreational vehicle (RV) disposal fee may be retained by DOL to cover the expenses associated with administering the fee. The remainder of the revenue collected for this fee must be used to reimburse registered tow truck operators and licensed dismantlers for the costs of transporting, dismantling, and disposing of abandoned RVs.

12 DOL retains $0.32 of the $16 commercial vehicle safety enforcement fee to cover the cost of administering the program.

13 DOL retains 18% of the off-road vehicle registration fees to cover the expenses incurred by administering these fees.

14 DOL retains 3% of the snowmobile registration fees to cover the expenses incurred by administering these fees.

15 Ten dollars of the $15 unpaid violations surcharge fee is to be used exclusively for the administrative costs of the department.

16 DOL retains 1% of transportation benefit district (TBD) fees to cover the costs of administration and collection. A list of current TBD fees in Washington State, with their fee rates, can be accessed on the DOL website at <https://dol.wa.gov/vehicles-and-boats/vehicles/taxes-and-fees/local-transportation-benefit-district-fees>.

17 DOL retains 2.5% of Regional Transit Authority (RTA) excise tax collections to cover the costs of administering and collecting the tax.

18 Per RCW 46.68.080(1), "Vehicle license fees collected under RCW 46.17.350 and 46.17.355 and fuel taxes collected under RCW 82.38.030(1) and directly or indirectly paid by the residents of those counties composed entirely of islands and which have neither a fixed physical connection with the mainland nor any state highways on any of the islands of which they are composed, must be paid into the motor vehicle fund of the state of Washington and must monthly, as they accrue, and after deducting therefrom the expenses of issuing such licenses and the cost of collecting such fuel tax, be paid to the county treasurer of each such county to be by him or her disbursed as hereinafter provided." The revenue amount listed here is the revenue collected for various vehicle licensing fees paid by residents of San Juan County. This revenue is not captured in the revenue amounts listed in the vehicle registration fee sections, but transaction counts for fees paid by residents of San Juan County are included in the vehicle registration transaction counts.

19 Per RCW 46.68.080(2), "One-half of the vehicle license fees collected under RCW 46.17.350 and 46.17.355 and one-half of the fuel taxes collected under RCW 82.38.030(1) and directly or indirectly paid by the residents of those counties composed entirely of islands and which have either a fixed physical connection with the mainland or state highways on any of the islands of which they are composed, must be paid into the motor vehicle fund of the state of Washington and must monthly, as they accrue, and after deducting therefrom the expenses of issuing such licenses and the cost of collecting such fuel tax, be paid to the county treasurer of each such county to be by him or her disbursed as hereinafter provided." The revenue amount listed here is the one-half of revenue collected for various vehicle licensing fees paid by residents of Island County. This revenue is not captured in the revenue amounts listed in the vehicle registration fee sections, but transaction counts for fees paid by residents of Island County are included in the vehicle registration transaction counts.

20 Per RCW 46.68.435(2), "Administrative costs incurred by the department as a direct result of administering the personalized license plate program must be appropriated by the legislature from the limited fish and wildlife account from those funds deposited in the account resulting from the sale of personalized license plates." Even though DOL could request to be reimbursed for the costs associated with administering the personalized plate fees, the department has not asked or been appropriated funds for this purpose.

21 There is no fee for Purple Heart license plates for one vehicle; for plates for additional vehicles, there is a $40 fee for original plates and $30 fee for renewals.

22 DOL retains $12 from each initial issuance and $2 for each renewal to cover administration and collection expenses incurred by collecting special plate fees.

Appendix A: What We Do - DOL's Transportation Fees and Services

Overview

The Washington State Department of Licensing (DOL) is a team of nearly 1,500 people who work to help advance public safety and consumer protection through licensing, regulation, and education. DOL also collects revenue that supports Washington State's transportation system. DOL employees in 55 licensing service offices provide driver field services. In addition, 179 agents and their contracted subagent offices in each of Washington's 39 counties provide vehicle field services. To many Washington residents, DOL is the face of state government because it provides services to nearly every Washingtonian.

Each year, DOL:

- Issues or renews more than 1.4 million driver licenses, identification cards, and instruction permits.
- Registers more than 7.3 million vehicles and vessels.
- Issues or renews nearly 181,000 professional and business licenses.
- Collects nearly $3.1 billion in gross revenue.

The agency also partners with law enforcement, and many other agencies and stakeholders, who impact public safety.

Transportation Fees and Services

DOL provides Washington residents with a wide variety of transportation services. These services include:

- Issuing driver licenses, identification cards, instruction permits, and endorsements.
- Issuing vehicle and vessel titles, plates/decals, registrations, and temporary permits.
- Conducting hearings for DUI and non-DUI offenses.
- Issuing restricted licenses and maintaining driver records.
- Licensing of various transportation services businesses including Vehicle Dealers, Manufacturers, Transporters, Limousines, and Taxis.
- Licensing of private Driver Training Schools.
- Administering prorated fees and collecting state fuel tax.

In administering these services, DOL collects fees and taxes in support of transportation and non-transportation funds, as well as local governments and private organizations. Funds this revenue supports include:

- Motor Vehicle Fund: Supported by vehicle fees and the fuel tax. This revenue can be used in support of transportation costs, as defined by the 18th Amendment in Washington State's constitution.
- Highway Safety Fund: Supported by driver licensing and identification fees. This revenue can be used to support collection of these fees and other transportation costs. This is not bound by the 18th Amendment in Washington State's constitution.
- Funds dedicated for use by transportation agencies: This may include support for collection of the fees or support for a related program. For example, the motorcycle endorsement fees support the Motorcycle Safety Education Account, and Ignition Interlock monthly fees support the IID Revolving Account. These are the administrative fees identified in this report.
- Funds dedicated for use by non-transportation agencies: This may include non-transportation state agencies, such as State Parks or the Department of Fish and Wildlife, or non-profit organizations. Many of these funds are supported by fees for special license plates.

Appendix B: Study Methodology, Assumptions, and Limitations

1. Identifying Costs: Direct vs. Indirect Costs

This report assesses per unit and total costs of each administrative fee, which includes two cost components – direct and indirect. These costs are defined as follows:

- Direct costs: Consist of program costs directly in support of administering the service. This includes employee salaries and benefits, materials for issued documents (i.e. licenses, registration papers), mailing and postage costs, program information technology costs, contract management, program- or division-level legal expenses, program- or division-level administrative support costs (such as the costs for assistant director or administrator offices), and employee training specific to the service.
- Indirect costs: Consist of agency overhead costs in support of the program(s) administering the service. These are primarily agency-level costs, which include human resources, agency-wide administrative and support services, the DOL Director's Office, enterprise project management, DOL lease expenses, agency legal expenses, and agency-level information technology costs.

In some cases, direct costs are located in programs otherwise consisting of indirect costs. For example, postage and material costs for vehicle titles and registrations are located in the Support Services cost center; while most costs from Support Services are indirect costs, the costs for vehicle title and registration postage and materials are included as direct costs. Similarly, the Data Sharing Contracts office (which is part of the Office of the Director, an area that primarily consists of indirect costs) is included with the direct costs because it administers several fees and services that are included in the Fee Study.

In some cases, a program may provide services to multiple business areas (such as Field and Licensing Support, Driver and Vehicle Records, and the Customer Service Center) but may not directly administer fees. In such cases, allocations are adjusted to ensure costs are applied appropriately.

The Fee Study includes all DOL expenses for the 2021-2023 biennium from transportation funds, and applies these costs to all transportation fees administered by the agency. Since all transportation-related expenditures are included in this analysis, the costs reported in the Fee Study include costs of related services that DOL often provides at no fee to the customer. These can include costs for customer education, support for courts and law enforcement, sending out driver and vehicle renewal notices, processing address changes, and processing documents such as wrecker destroyed vehicle or abandoned vehicle reports.

2. Allocating Costs: Cost Drivers and Distribution Estimates

Allocating agency costs to fees requires answers for three primary questions: what are the costs, what should drive cost distributions, and where should the costs be distributed?

What are the costs: Costs used for the study are final biennial expenditures as reported by cost center in the Agency Financial Reporting System (AFRS), the state accounting system. Only DOL costs from transportation funds are included in this analysis. The study excludes expenditures for Business and Professions Division non-transportation fees and services, Federal funding, pass-through funds for local agencies, and most proviso funds (except for proviso funds from the LSO Workload decision package; these costs were included and applied to in-office driver transactions). Only DOL costs are included in the Fee Study, even though some vehicle and vessel transactions are conducted at privately-owned vehicle licensing offices. The cost of collecting and administering vehicle fees and services does not include any costs that are paid by the agent or subagent.

What should drive cost distributions: This is based on standard allocation practices and interviews with program administrators. Agency indirect costs are allocated to direct cost centers based on percent of expenses, except for agency costs related to office space or leases which are allocated based on percent of FTEs. Information Technology (IT) costs are allocated to specific fees based on estimates from the Apptio model, the tool that DOL uses to map IT costs to individual services and transactions (more details below). Direct costs are distributed in a variety of ways; methods are selected in coordination with program administrators and include distribution based on FTE counts, transaction counts, or estimates of staff effort. For driver fees that were collected in Licensing Service Offices, transaction timing data from Q-Flow was used to estimate in-office staff effort. Q-Flow is DOL's customer flow management system.

Where costs should be distributed: This is based on interviews with program administrators and managers to obtain estimates of staff members' time and effort expended for administration of various fees or services. These estimates are used to spread expenses by cost center to the applicable fees and services.

DOL uses a tool called Apptio to map all IT costs to business units (i.e. services or transactions). Apptio is a business technology management tool managed through Washington State's Office of the Chief Information Officer (OCIO), and is utilized by a number of Washington state agencies. This tool enables DOL to estimate an IT cost per fee or service. As a result, IT costs are applied directly to a fee, fee type, or service. DOL's information technology costs are included in both direct and indirect cost estimates, depending on the source of the IT cost. Information technology costs in direct cost centers (i.e. IT costs for programs that directly or indirectly manage fees or services) are included as direct costs. IT costs for agency-level administrative or support services, enterprise project management, central services, or the Chief Information Officer (CIO) or Deputy CIO Offices are generally included as indirect costs. This approach differs from prior Fee Study reports, where all DOL IT costs were included as indirect costs. As a result of this change, direct and indirect cost estimates in this report are not directly comparable to direct and indirect cost estimates in the prior Fee Study reports.

3. Fees with Statutory Language Specifically Supporting DOL Fee Collection or Programs

Fees are included as an administrative fee if the associated RCW contains language that sets aside a portion, either a specific dollar amount or fee percentage, to support fee collection or program administration costs. Fees are included regardless of whether DOL requested or received the revenue through appropriation the following biennium.

The purpose of the administrative fee cost analysis is to demonstrate the relationship between the designated fee rate and the per unit cost of collection. When a portion of the fee is set aside for the agency to recover the cost of collection, the fee rate listed in the administrative fee table is that specified portion. When the purpose of the fee is to cover the overall costs of program administration, the total fee amount is listed.

For the motorcycle endorsement fees, the total cost of the Motorcycle Safety Program is included in the costs of administering these fees as these services are indirectly related to motorcycle endorsement.

For the ignition interlock monthly fee, only the costs of administering the program are included in the total costs. The majority of the costs in the Ignition Interlock Device (IID) Revolving Account go toward providing financial assistance for indigent applicants with an IID requirement.

4. Transaction Inventory

The transportation fee inventory on pp. 10-25 includes all fees administered by DOL for transportation purposes (all driver, vehicle, vessel, and Business and Professions Division transportation services fees collected in support of DOL, other agencies, or non-governmental organizations). The intent is to describe the fee as presented in RCW or WAC, though the fee name may be slightly modified to better capture the fee's intent. The inventory includes services required by RCW to have a fee of $0.00.

Transaction counts are provided (to the extent possible) for each transportation fee listed in the inventory. Counts of finalized transactions are from DOL systems; incomplete transactions are excluded as the service is not provided to the customer. Time and/or costs for incomplete transactions are absorbed into finalized transactions.

Transactions are included regardless of the fee rate charged. A transaction may be completed with an alternative fee rate, such as a fee pro-rated for more or less than one year. Transaction counts do not align with the number of customers, number of customer visits, or number of customer payments. For example, one customer may complete multiple transactions with one payment.

Transactions in the fee study are more granular (detailed) than as presented to the customer. This is particularly true for vehicle transactions, where multiple fees are often paid when completing a single transaction (such as a vehicle title or registration that is associated with filing and service fees).

5. Revenue Estimates

Revenue totals are not official, but rather estimates. DOL stores and reports revenue information by revenue account, not by fee. One fee may contribute revenue to multiple accounts, or one account may receive revenue from multiple fees.

Revenue and transaction totals will often not align, as the fee rate is not always the amount charged for every transaction (it may be a larger or smaller pro-rated amount). The revenue totals account for refunds and other adjustments. Revenue and transaction data are stored in separate systems, which may contribute to difficulties with maintaining and providing consistent information.
